

CORNELL WRESTLERS AGAIN CHAMPIONS

Princeton Second and Lehigh Third in Intercollegiate Contests.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 18.—Taking individual honors in three events of the seven contested, Cornell again won the intercollegiate wrestling championships here this afternoon. This marks the fifth consecutive year that the Ithacans have carried off the titular honors.

Princeton failed to show the strength that she gave promise of in the preliminary bouts last evening, and was a poor second to the Cornell matmen.

Cornell got 24 points, while Princeton scored 14. Lehigh was third with 12, Pennsylvania fourth with 11, and Columbia brought up the rear with a single point.

Cornell won the championships in the 125, 158, and 175-pound classes. All the bouts were keenly contested, and the falls were few and far between. The scarcity of falls was largely accounted for by the strict rules that were agreed upon before the matches started and which were carried out by the referees.

Mike Dorizas, the Pennsylvania strong man, captured the championship in the unlimited class easily. He threw Jewett, his only opponent, with a body hold in 20 2-5 seconds. One of the most interesting bouts was in the 145-pound class between Beatty of Princeton and Captain Milligan of Pennsylvania. The match went to Milligan on a decision. The summaries:

115-Pound Class.—Wiss, Princeton, won from MacKenzie, Cornell, on decision. Time—15:00.
